

Little Man-Written for a Friend.

A little boy.

Two hands with ten tiny fingers.

Two feet with ten tiny toes.

This little boy.

Had two tiny arms, two tiny legs and the cutest button nose.

This little angel.

Came into this world with a fierce remarkable presence. With an abundance of sweetness and warmth. A heart bursting with love.

A sweet little lad.

Left us, as quickly as he came. Softly, like a gentle whisper. An indelible mark forever imprinted on our souls.

It feels like yesterday when we first held you in our arms. A gift that we still treasure to keep your memory alive.

Until we meet again, you'll live safely in our hearts, our sweet little angel.
